Reminders – from the Church Council letter

We don't plan to limit numbers or interaction at church, but please be considerate of the boundaries and wishes of those around you. You are welcome to sit as families and social distance if you like. If you are more comfortable wearing a mask, it's fine to wear one.

We plan to livestream the service for those who choose not to attend.

We plan to sanitize the door knobs, benches, and areas that are frequently touched before Sunday, and between services.

We will open the door for you as you enter and leave the building.

We will not be passing the mic or the offering basket around.

We don't all land at the same place on this, and that's okay... It's not an easy journey.

Don't judge! Respect and affirm those who choose to stay home and their reasons for doing so.

We ask for grace - we are experimenting as we resume meeting, and there will be adjustments and changes as we reevaluate along the way.

We fully understand that we do not all process these things the same way. We wish to give room and grace for each person to follow the Lord in this. As leaders we extend grace, peace and God's love to each of you as you live out God's direction for you. We desire to lift Jesus high, and experience His love and compassion in our gatherings.

We ask you to keep praying that God will continue to teach us as we walk this journey together. We have learned through this journey, and believe He still has more to teach us individually and as a church body.

The conclusion of the library article ☺

New arrivals in the library - Survivor: A Story of Tragedy, Guilt, and Grace by Duane Miller. For those of you who use the Daily Bread, you may remember reading a short testimony by Duane Miller at the back of one of the Daily Bread monthly devotionals. In this book, you can read the full story of Duane's experience on a canoe trip that turned deadly for three young men, the aftermath in Duane's own life, and God's work through it all.

In the junior category, check out The Kingdom Series by Chuck Black as well as five additional books in the Christian Heroes Then & Now series.

I challenge each of you to read at least one book from the library before summer. The library committee and the librarians hope to see you there!
